Advice of a Prominent Texas Cattleman to His Brother Ranchers. Special to the Gazette.

San Antonio, Tex., March 2.- Major George W. Littlefield, one of the most extensive as well as one of the best informed cattlemen of this state, solves the Texas beef problem as follows: The greatest burden that is on the cattle business is the hold of the dressed beef ring of Chicago. Our cattle are not worth more than half what they were two years ago, yet the peo-ple of the north and east are pay-ing just as much for their steaks to-day as they did then. The concert of action is within the ring at Chicago. It is the price paid for all the steers snipped there, and if you don't like it you can't help yourself; you have to welk up and take your medicine like a little man. For two years we have dumped our beef into the laps of this day.

Mr. F. F. Barnes, a farmer who lives combination, and we have seen during combination, and we have seen during that time our business sink and that time our business sink and chelik day by day until barely life. that time our business sink and shrink day by day until barely life is left in the trade for the producer. Middlemen of one or the other kind get off with the profits and the poor ranchman is left to grumble about the situation, and the most of them set back and wait for something to turn up, looking for some one to bring about relief. Now, take my word for it, if we ever get out of this troublesome fix and rid business of this tax placed on it by the dressed-beef catcher struck his wagon and knocked ring we must get together in concerted it into the air. Parties standing on the platform of the passenger depot thought the man and horses were killed, but as the train passed on it was seen that Mr. Barnes nor the horses its forward place for a refrigerator and canning house, nor allow the same to North nor West Texas; but form into a present. company from all sections of the state different lines of road, and we can then ship Governor Lawrence S. We don't want to ship our dressed meats to Chicago, to come in contact with the ring at their the marriage of their niece, Miss May headquarters. It is better to ship it to Jimmie Ross, to Colonel J. S. Rice of Houston, which event takes place petition with the ring. There should be petition with the ring.
